THIS DATE IN BASEBALL

JUNE 16
1916 — Tom Hughes of the Boston Braves pitched a no-hitter in a 2-0 win over Pittsburgh Pirates.
1938 — Jimmie Foxx didn't get a chance to hit when the St. Louis Browns walked him six straight times. The Boston Red Sox won anyway, 12-8.
1953 — The St. Louis Browns beat New York 3-1 to break the Yankees' 18-game winning streak and end their 14-game losing streak.
1957 — Relief pitcher Dixie Howell hit two home runs in the 3 2-3 innings he pitched to lead the Chicago White Sox to an 8-6 victory in the second game of a double-header against the Washington Senators.
1971 — The Oakland Athletics hit five solo home runs in a 5-1 win over the Washington Senators. Mike Epstein and Joe Rudi had a pair of homers and Dave Duncan one. Epstein's home runs came in his first two at-bats to give him homers in four straight at-bats over two games.
1978 — After three ninth-inning near misses, Tom Seaver threw the first no-hitter of his 12-year career, sending the Cincinnati Reds past the St. Louis Cardinals 4-0. Seaver struck out three and walked three.
1991 — Otis Nixon of Atlanta stole six bases against Montreal to set a modern National League record and tie the major league record set by Eddie Collins of the Philadelphia A's in 1912. Montreal won the game 7-6.
1992 — Boston's Mark Reardon became baseball's career saves leader when he closed out a 1-0 win over the New York Yankees. Reardon passed Rollie Fingers with his 342nd save.
2001 — John Olerud went 4-for-5 and hit for the cycle and Seattle beat the San Diego Padres 9-2. He homered in the ninth to complete the cycle.
2009 — The San Diego Padres set a major league record with their 12th straight loss in interleague play when they fell 5-0 to Seattle.
2012 — Baltimore's Jason Hammel pitched a one-hitter for his first career shutout and the Orioles beat the Atlanta Braves 5-0. He struck out eight and walked two and allowed a two-out single to Jason Heyward in the seventh inning.
2012 — Ervin Santana pitched a one-hitter to lead the Los Angeles Angels to 2-0 win over Arizona. Santana retired the first 20 batters of the game before allowing a two-out single to Justin Upton in the seventh. Upton and pinch-hitter Miguel Montero, who drew a ninth-inning walk, were the only Diamondbacks to reach base.
2015 — Brock Holt became the first Boston player to hit for the cycle since 1996 and the Red Sox slugged their way out to a 9-4 victory over Atlanta.
2015 — Manny Machado and Chris Parmelee each hit two of an Orioles-record eight home runs, and Baltimore pounded woeful Philadelphia 19-3. The eight home runs were the most by the Orioles since their move from St. Louis in 1954.

MINERS

This time around he got out of the trouble himself. After allowing a sacrifice bunt to put the runners in scoring position, he got two straight strikeouts to escape the inning with the same score.

In the fifth, Seay escaped again. In total the Railroaders left 13 runners on base in the five innings Seay saw of action. Seay would finish the game with three earned runs, allowing seven hits with six walks and three strikeouts.

The Miners offense went cold after the opening home run, going the next five innings without getting a hit and striking out seven times in the process.

Chevalier snapped the hitless streak with his second homer of the game. George De la Fe started the inning getting hit by a pitch and Chevalier made them pay, driving him home with his second bomb to right field.

Chevalier would finish the game going 2-3 from the plate with three RBI. The rest of the team had two hits combined with 11 strikeouts.

"We were just stuck in bad counts all game and that always limits our chances of being successful," said Bush.

With the game tied at 3-3 going to the sixth, the Miners brought in Tyler Etheridge to pitch in relief and Fulton took full advantage. Etheridge started the inning surrendering a walk and then allowed Haupt to hit a deep two-run shot to straight center field.

Stohr followed him up hitting an almost identical home run the next at bat, putting the Railroaders up three going to the final inning. Etheridge would take the loss on the game allowing three runs in his sole inning of action.

"Pitching wise we were always stuck behind in the count, the opposite of our batters. We allowed to many walks, runners on base and then got behind to the point they knew the fast ball was coming. That's how they hurt us tonight," said Bush.

The game lasted only seven inning since it was the first part of a doubleheader at Fulton for the Miners. The second game on the night concluded after deadline. The results will be included in Sunday's paper.
